Mayor Bernero to Deliver 11th State of the City Address

Speech Entitled “Accelerate Lansing!” to Highlight Success of Niowave Nuclear Technology Firm

(LANSING) - Mayor Virg Bernero will deliver his 11th State of the City Address next Tuesday, March 22, at the Niowave Radioisotope Production Facility, located adjacent to Capital Region International Airport. The mayor’s annual speech will be broadcast live on WILX TV-10.2 beginning at 7 p.m and streamed online at <http://www.lansingmi.gov>.

The success of Niowave, one of the most advanced particle accelerator companies in the world, is reflected in the theme of Mayor Bernero’s speech - “Accelerate Lansing!” As he begins the first year of his second decade as Lansing’s mayor, Bernero will highlight his administration’s accomplishments in the past year and outline his vision for accelerating the city’s progress.

“It’s been an amazing ten years,” said Mayor Bernero. “But in many ways I feel the best is yet to come. Lansing is becoming one of the great Midwestern capital cities, and we’ve still got work to do to reach our full potential as a city and metro region.”

The public is invited to attend the mayor’s speech. Niowave is located on Port Lansing Road adjacent to Capital Region International Airport. Doors open at 5:30 p.m. for a pre-address reception and tours of Niowave’s facility. Guests are asked to arrive no later than 6:30 p.m. to accommodate the requirements of the live broadcast.
